The following table gives the allotments, number of subscribers and amounts subscribed as reported by the local chairman.

Probably some additions will be made at headquarters on account of subscriptions received from people residing in other places. It will be some weeks before we get the exact figures from Boston. This table shows that West Oxford County did its full duty by oversubscribing $294,350. The credit for this success is due to the splendid way in which the local committee took hold of the work. H. D. Smith was chairman of West Oxford County.

Influenza Conquered

The town of Norway is almost free from influenza and pneumonia. It passed as rapidly as it came.

Five patients are being treated at the Grange hall hospital, they are Mrs. Arthur Morris, Ralph Watson, Mrs. Flora Currier, Mrs. Mary Canwell and Arthur Thompson. All are on the road to recovery, so if nothing serious develops before Saturday, it is expected all will be sent to their homes.

The following patients have been discharged from that institution during the past week: Arline R. Saleeby, Frank J. Jewell, Mrs. Levi Richardson, Carroll C. Dearborn, Charles F. Brackett, Mrs. William Durrell, Mrs. Beatrice Jacobs, Alice Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Merline Thompson, Charles Millett, Vivian W. Brown, Ina Hiltunen and Mr. Leonard.

Pr. E. V. Call of Lewiston has been the visiting physician during Dr. H. L. Bartlett's absence. Fred H. Cummings, who has been on duty day and night since the hospital opened was stricken with influenza and forced to give up his work. He is gaining rapidly and will soon get about.

The citizens of Norway owe the physicians, nurses and all who have in any way assisted at the hospital or throughout the district, a debt of gratitude. Rich and poor received the same consideration and tender care. Social standing or residential location were not considered. Those who faced contagion day and night to conserve life should not be forgotten as we return to normal conditions, when every day affairs might crowd out the events through which we, in common with other communities, have passed.

LOCKED GATE AND BARBED WIRE

F. W. Sanborn: "Mother says I don't know the difference between commonplaced street civility and a genuine invitation. This was said when I recently stood before the locked gate leading to the Albany Basin Preserve and was insisting that Mr Sperring had invited me to call on him at any time during his two weeks' fall sojourn there.

"Mother coolly added, if he had really intended for you to have come he would have given you a key to the gate or told you how to have notified the people over on the porch of that house He did not intend for you to call. That settled it. Mother was right again.

"The car was turned but not until I had placed a bag of choice apples and a card expressive of regrets at the gate.

"Of course I felt humiliated, but what could I do, The court of last appeal had decided against me, and I returned home."

DRAFT NOTES

Twenty-eight draftees, which is the October quota from Oxford County, reported at the County buildings at South Paris at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon.

After the formalites were completed the contingent marched to Savoy Theatre and with a few civilians watched the three reel photo play, "Fit to Fight" given by Dr. Hitchcock of the United Stath's Health Department. This play deals with the "social evil", and has been staged for educational purposes. It shows methods used by degraded persons, who gain a livelihood in cities near training camps, by a systematic campaign which undermines the health and efficiency of our best young men.

The social welfare rooms and "dens" were shown in sharp contrast with the physical reaction from both were object lessons worth considering seriously. This lecture occupies about an hour and a quarter.

Thursday morning the draftees assembled at the court house and marched to the station where a large crowd had assembled to bid them good bye. They entrained for Fort Williams, Portland, and entered the general service.

She was the daughter of James H. and Sarah J. (Douglass) Sherman, born in Meridthral, N. B., May 28, 1887. The family came to South Paris some years ago and have resided on the Dr. King farm about three years.

Besides her husband, she leaves four children, one an infant, who are under the care of her sister, Mrs. Nina Hayford.

Prescott E. Pratt

Prescott E. Pratt, aged 27, died at the state prison at Thomaston, Oct. 17, with influenza, complicated with a weak heart.

Apple Canning Under Way

The Oxford County Fruit Product Co. of Buckfield is busy canning apples. They occupy the large factory near the depot and have a big crew working. The company officers: G. A. Yeaton, president, C. H. Brackley, vice president and general manager with E. E. Conant secretary and treasurer.

They have bought many thousands of bushels of apples, paying $1.60 per barrel for two inch fruit delivered in bulk. Under certain conditions apples are acceptable if shook from the trees. Cores and parings are made into cider and later on it is expected that the peelings will be made into jelly.

The embargo on export and scarcity of sugar necessitates the saving of apples in this way. Canning requires little or no sugar.

This makes a good outlet for apple crops in this vicinity which is said to be larger than in any other section of the state.

Edith Rogers Hobson, wife of Leslie Hobson, who has been in failing health for some time, passed away the 12th. It seemed quite sudden although we knew she could not stay with us long. She is one that will be greatly missed among her friends as well as in her home for she always had a cheerful way to all, even since she had been so sick and bore her sickness with patience. When asked how she felt it was most always pretty good. She leaves a husband, daughter, Velma, two brothers and a sister, besides several nieces, whom she thought so much of, to mourn their loss.

Judge For Yourself

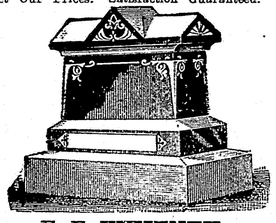

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Norway Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment.
Must be proved to be as represented.
The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.
But the endorsement of friends is.
Now supposing you had a bad back,
A lame, weak, or aching one,
Would you experiment on it?
You will read of many so-called cures.
Endorsed by strangers from faraway places.
It is different when the endorsement comes from home.
Easy to prove local testimony.

I used various medicines, but it was left for Doan's Kidney Pills to give me lasting results. Since using them, I have had no return of the complaint and I have great confidence in Doan's."

Fred E. Guptill

Fred E. Guptill died Sept. 25, of heart trouble. He had been sick for about six months, though before that he had been ailing. No man in the town of Stow will be missed more than Fred Guptill. He leaves a widow, three sons, Irving M. of Jackson, N. H., Simeon C. of Fryeburg Fred Archibald of Stow, and one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Bryant of Chatham, N. H., besides a host of friends. Fred Guptill was a man in every sense of the word, a man who made strong friends and kept them. He like all the rest of us had faults, but unlike a good many of us he had virtues enough to more than balance the sheet. We have often thought of him as Longfellow's "Village Blacksmith." Children coming home from school look in at the open door and there they would see as bonnie a man as you could find anywhere. "His hair was crisp and black and long, his face was like tan. He looked the whole world in the face, he owed not any man." He began blacksmithing here with his father when he was a little boy and has lived here till he died in the same house and the same shop. He was a fine workman, a good neighbor and a staunch friend and Odd Fellow, a man gone that is a loss to the community but who will always be remembered by the community he served so faithfully. His youngest son, F. A., will keep the shop open and do custom work as his father and grandfather did and make a home for his mother.

This beautiful spot has always been the home of the Warren brothers, and their land is under fine cultivation.

Milton Warren, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Warren, has some of the finest blooded stock in this section, and takes most excellent care of the same. The land surrounding the house of the Warrens is said to be rich in minerals—many precious stones have been found there. The party disbanded at 5 o'clock voting the day all too short.

OUR SERVICE And What it Means to You

We Have a Joint Interest in This Community

And We Wish to Join With You in Every Way to Promote the Communities' Interests

In a sense, this community is like a farm—it pays according to the way in which it is treated.

The successful farmer co-operates with his farm.

Knowing that certain soil elements are necessary to healthy crop growth, he sees to it that these elements are maintained.

The same principle holds good in community development.

Our community is composed of two closely-related elements—town and country.

They are both essential to healthy community growth. Neglect or mistreatment of either of them by the other affects both—it injures the whole community. Both elements must be maintained.

Accomplishing this is simply a matter of sincere co-operation among all of us in this community.

Our idea of our own part to play for community good in a business way is—

To sell only such implements as have the quality to give high grade results in the field.

To consider good performance by our implements as a part of our obligation.

To sell every implement at a fair price.

To practice the square deal towards each and every customer.

On this basis we invite the co-operation of every farmer in this community.

Bird's American Twin Shingles.

Barber's Phoenix Green Slate Shingles.

Barrett's Everlastic Multi-Shingles.

We still have in stock nearly two cars of these shingles that we are selling at the price of a year ago. The cost is but little higher than ordinary wooden shingles. Having from two to four shingles in a strip, they can be laid much cheaper and are more durable besides making a much more ornamental roof, resembling tile. What is much more important, they are so slow burning as to be practically fireproof. A wood shingle roof is a firetrap and is not allowed in many localities governed by fire regulations. Now is the time to lay these shingles before cold weather. When they are gone, there will be no more at the present price.

DIED OF TYPHOID FEVER

Edward Anderson of Oxford received the following letter in regard to the death of his son, Elmer D. Anderson in France:

My dear Mr. Anderson:—By this time the War Department has notified you of the death of your son, Elmer, from typhoid fever, contracted while in line of duty. I am the hospital visitor representing the American Red Cross at this place, and although I know Chaplan Henshaw is writing to you, I too want to send my heartfelt sympathy for the loss of your splendid brave lad. He was buried with full military honors in the little military cemetery at Ministerol, and his grave has been properly registered by the "Graves Registration Bureau of the Army." I attended the funeral, Mr. Anderson, and am enclosing a flower from the grave, which was completely covered with beautiful ferns and flowers, placed there by the kindly French people, who have themselves suffered so many sacrifices. Surely "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." Again with deepest sympathy, sincerely, Agatha Wexler, Home Communication Service A. R. C.

Cited for Bravery

Private Edward McNeil of Mexico has been cited for bravery. McNeil is a member of Company B, 103d Infantry, and during the heavy action near Bouresches, France, on July 20, 1918, the lad showed extraordinary heroism.

Upon reaching his objective, which was Hill 190, just in front of Bouresches, he turned about only to discover that he was the only man of his squad left. Instead of retreating or seeking some hole or dugout where he might hide in safety until others of the company reached that locality, McNeil went alone and entered a machine gun position and at the point of a bayonet captured three machine guns and five prisoners.

OVER THE SEA

A Tribute to Uncle Sam's Fighting Fourth Liberty Loan

Over the sea where drums they are beating,
Over the sea our banners they wave,
There's where the Huns today are retreating,
Hurrying down to Hell and the grave.

Over the sea where muskets they rattle;
There's where the birds have scattered and fled,
There's where our heroes march into battle,
There's where unnumbered lie the maimed and the dead.

Over the sea where the plot and the plunder,
Over the sea where our planes proudly soar,
Over the sea where the tumult and thunder
Tells them the battle is raging once more.

Over the sea where mothers are weeping,
Over the sea where comrades they sleep,—
There's where death his harvest is reaping,
There's where our ships are plowing the deep.

Hark to the trumpet that calls in our dreaming,
And falls on our ears each day o'er and o'er;
Hark to the battle fray sounding, seeming—
Echoing back to our own native shore.

Over the sea the children are sighing,
Forsaken with scarcely a crust to gnaw,
Fatherless, motherless, weeping and dying:
Wrought by the curse and folly of war.

There's where our thoughts, our love and devotion,
There's where our boys are braving the fight,
There's where true hearts have crossed the wide ocean,
There's where our prayers are going tonight.

Out from the belfry and o'er the top story
Ring the old bells and list to their chimes:
Cheer and shout and wave Old Glory—
And all come forward with your dollars and dimes.

Oh, that men would banish the war gun!
And see for all time its worthless worth;
And let this war be the last one
Ever to take place here on the earth.

Over the sea where drums they are beating,
Over the sea our banners they wave;
There's where the Huns today are retreating—
Hurrying down to Hell and the grave.

TRIBUTE TO THE G. A. R.

In the quiet hush of this evening hour.
We deem it a most fitting time
To pay a tribute to the Boys in Blue.
The soldiers of Auld Lang Syne!

We are glad to have you with us to-night,
You're welcome as flowers in May,
And deep in our hearts there's a thrill of pride
For we know in the battle's fray

You each did your part in the long ago,
You each heard the nation's call,
And responded in sturdy young manhood,
Leaving home, loved ones and all!

We do not forget your loyalty,
We know you were brave and true,
True to principles of justice and right
And true to the Red, White and Blue!

Since the din of warfare in the long ago
Many years have come and gone.
But, hark! We hear the bugle call!
Again! yes again, war is on!

We know full well, dear comrades,
That sympathy, heartfelt and true
Is extended to boys in khaki "over there"
By the Boys who wore the blue.

And though on your faces are lines of care
And though we notice your silvery hair,
We hope you'll with us a long time stay
For, how we should miss you Memorial Day!

The whole world is saddened, we all feel depressed!
But there'll come a time some day
When the boys in blue and boys in khaki
Will see the Green Hill far away!

You've always been loyal to the stars and stripes
And defended our Country's fair fame
So to-night, dear comrades, we pay to you
This tribute in Liberty's name.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

Planning for Greatest War Fund Drive in History of World

STATE CHAIRMAN AND DIRECTOR APPOINTED

Local Committees Include Many Prominent Citizens Who Have Displayed Great Activity in This Work.

The greatest war fund drive in the history of the United States, if not the entire world, is to be held during the week of November 11-16. This is to be the United War Work Campaign to raise funds for our boys "over there" so that they who are fighting our battles for humanity and giving up their lives that we at home may live in a world of peace and justice, may enjoy some of the comforts, even some of the actual necessities, which they can get from no other source.

The seven organizations which comprise the United War Work Campaign are the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Catholic War Council, or in other words, the Knights of Columbus activities for the boys in khaki, the Jewish Welfare Board, the American Library Association, the War Camp Community Service, and the Salvation Army.

In the past it has been the plan for each one of these oganizations to conduct a separate campaign to raise money for its own work, all of which is so deserving of public support Seven campaigns require seven different campaign organizations, seven different large expense accounts, possibly the same person doing seven different times the same kind and almost the same amount of work he could do at one time. It has kept the country stirred up, and literally tired out, with successive campaigns following each other in rapid order and all working for practically the same end, the welfare of the American and Allied soldiers fighting for our homes and for our honor on the battlefields of France, Belgium, Italy and Siberia.

It was to avoid this that President Wilson very wisely asked that the seven organizations get together and conduct one campaign and this joint drive for funds will be held during the week of November 11-16.

The State chairman of the drive is Silas B. Adams, of Portland, one of the leading business men of the State and the State director is to be Jefferson C. Smith, of Waterville, one of the best known boy workers and campaign managers in Maine.

County campaign chairmen have been appointed as follows:

Androscoggin—Alfred J. Sweet, Auburn.
Aroostook—Thomas F. Phair, Presque Isle.
Cumberland—Henry F. Merrill, Portland.
Franklin—Willard S. Bass, Wilton.
Hancock—Thomas Searls, Bar Harbor.
Kennebec—Dr. A. Joly, Waterville.
Knox—Horatio N. McDougall, Rockland.
Lincoln—John M. Glidden, Newcastle.
Oxford—Judge Matthew McCarthy.
Penobscot—F. E. Bragg, Bangor.
Piscataquis—A. B. Clark, Milo.
Sagadahoc—Hon. Harold M. Sewall, Bath.
Somerset—W. H. Cummings, Skowhegan.
Waldo—O. E. Frost, Belfast.
Washington—C. H. Clark, Lubec.
York—Walter J. Kilpatric, Saco.

A complete publicity organization also has been formed to cover the State with D. W. Hoegg, Jr., city editor of the Express-Advertiser, Portland, as State chairman.

He has appointed publicity chairmen who will be in charge of all publicity and advertising in connection with the drive in his county. These are as follows:—

Androscoggin, Sam E. Connor, Lewiston.
Aroostook, Chas. H. Fogg, Houlton.
Cumberland, Mrs. E. W. Moseley, Portland.
Franklin, Henry P. White, Farmington.
Hancock, Harold P. Whitmore, Bar Harbor.

Knox, Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., Rockland.
Lincoln, Benj. F. Kelley, Boothbay Harbor.

All of these men rank among the leaders in their line throughout Maine and the fact that they have agreed to take hold of the drive means that it has got to be a success and that Maine will go over the top with the cooperation of every man, woman and child within its limits.

Maine quota in the drive is to be $907,000, a tremendous sum, almost a million dollars so it will take everyone to make the campaign a success.

TOWN FARM REPORTS.

The quarterly bulletin of the State Board of Charities and Corrections speaks of the Waterford and Oxford town farms:

Waterford Town Farm

The superintendent and matron are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Durgin. Salary $500 per annum; experience one month.

Recommendations and suggestions. Most of the sleeping rooms contain only one very small window under the eaves. A window in the roof of each room would make them much more pleasant and healthful. Most of the rooms are unheated in every way.

The present matron has wisely moved the old man who is sick down stairs to a pleasant room, as the stairs are too steep for old people.

The earth closet needs a little repairing on a platform.

Conditions observed:—The almshouse is not used as a house of correction. Tramps are fed and lodged. Authority for their admission:—selectmen. They are required to work.

Cleanliness, the inmates' part is used and very clean, the rest is being cleaned. Part of the earth closet needs thorough cleaning. It is hardly fair to criticise the latter as the present superintendent has just come and they seem to be cleaning as fast as possible.

The repair is generally good, but many rooms need papering and painting, and the furniture is not abundant.

The beds are clean and bedding sufficient, while there are mattresses and feather beds, there are no springs. The beds have wooden slats, as the inmates are old and ill, springs would make them more comfortable.

The sanitation in the inmates' part seemed all right, the living room in the superintendent's part was poorly ventilated.

Assignment of work, the one able to work helps on the farm.

Improvements since the previous inspection, the house has been shingled and painted.

Inmates present:—adults, males under 60, 1; over 60, 2. Feeble minded, 1 One requires more or less assistance but is not sick in bed. He has a cancer on the face.

Oxford Town Farm

Superintendent and matron are Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Brackett. Salary $500 per annum; experience two years.

Conditions observed. The almshouse is not used as a house of correction. Tramps are fed and lodged. The authority for their admission, selectmen. They are made to work for their lodging.

The cleanliness is good but the repair is poor, the walls are boarded and the floors are rough. There is vermin in the inmates' part. They have a few comfortable chairs for furniture. The beds and bedding and care of food supplies are good. The improvements since the previous inspection, all the rooms in the superintendent's part have been papered, plastered and painted. One room in the inmates' part is papered, painted, also a new iron bedstead, a mattress and two springs.

Inmates present:—adults, males under 60, two; over 60, one; children under 16, one, total four.

The Wing boy has been there about a year this time.

REGARDING WASTE

It is to be hoped that the lesson we are learning now with regard to waste will be of lasting benefit to us as a people.

We have been the most wasteful nation in the world. Our ignorant classes were the supreme wasters of the universe, and too many of us who should have known better were rather too proud to economize. I remember that at school there were two classes of children who seemed to vie with each other in the amount of chalk, pens and paper they could waste—the offspring of the very poorest families, and those who thought themselves rather "up in the world."

There is no way by which we can better practice ethics, school ourselves in ethical habits, than by liberal economy. It is the heritage and hall-mark of gentility. By liberal economy, is meant an appreciation of the value of what we have, rather than professing to despise it, an appreciation of the value of what nature gives to us rather than affecting to demand it as a toll for deigning to be upon the earth.

Now, this world that we call ours owes nobody anything. But in the munificent order of nature, the hospitality of God, if you will, bounteous opportunity is spread before us. We may help ourselves to the full of our needs, but we are not invited to this feast to destroy that which we cannot use.

A decent respect for that idea is what constitutes gentility toward our neighbors and self-respecting independence in ourselves.

The first common of ethics is doing right for right's sake. One cannot begin its practice in a better way than by material economy. When you waste, you take more than your share. When you take more than your share, you rob some one else. Robbery is a crime.

The enforced economy of wartime is going to be beneficial to us as a race. We cannot read of the great salvaging operations of our army system in France without feeling guilty for the waste we practice here at home. We have been taught that war is the most destructive agency ever devised, yet necessity is enforcing a salvage system "over there", that is supreme in its economy. Not a scrap of any material is allowed to escape the full function for which it was intended.

That is the sort of economy we should enforce upon ourselves. We are not honest with our defenders nor ourselves if we go on wasting as we once did.

Take your ration but take no more. That is what the soldier is doing, and he is giving up his freedom and comfort, and risking his life besides.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS

One parcel will be accepted by the War Department through the Red Cross for each soldier over seas.

Each soldier will be provided with one Christmas label. This label will be forwarded by him to the person in the United States from whom he wishes to receive his Christmas package. Packages that do not bear this label will not be accepted by the Red Cross for delivery to the post office authorities. Labels that are lost will not be duplicated.

Christmas parcels must be placed in cardboard boxes, 3 by 4 by 9 inches in size. These boxes may be obtained at Red Cross chapters or branches after November 1.

With each box will be given complete instruction regarding the articles which may be sent, and a list of articles which are barred by the postal authorities. Study these instructions and avoid mistakes. No message or written material of any kind will be allowed to go in the boxes. When the boxes are packed, but unwrapped, they must not weigh more than 2 pounds and 15 ounces. If the parcel is overweight, some article must be removed.

Do not put perishable food, soft candy, liquids, or anything in glass containers in the package if you wish it to reach its destination with the other contents unspoiled.

Do not mail the box yourself. When packed, the box should be taken to the nearest collection station designated by the Red Cross, unsealed and unwrapped, ready for inspection. Red Cross representatives are authorized to remove objectionable articles from the parcels. Shippers will then affix sufficient postage on their parcels to carry them to Hoboken, N. J The parcel post zone rates will be charged. The parcels are to remain in custody of the Red Cross until delivered to the postal authorities.

No Christmas parcel will be accepted by the Red Cross for shipment after November 20. Keep this fact in mind when planning a Merry Christmas for the boys "Over There."

Soldiers' Letters

A letter from a Red Cross nurse follows. Charlotte E. Johnson of Boston, who is a trained nurse, joined the Red Cross nurses about a year ago and arrived in France, August 12. She has been a frequent visitor of her aunt, Mrs. Hiram Clark of Beal Street. Her mother, Mrs. A. M. Johnson has been stopping with Mrs. Clark during the past year.

August 22, 1918.

I've travelled over considerable territory in France ever since my last joint letter to you. I hope Lera got it so that she was able to send it on to you. It was from Vichy I wrote, and for fear former letters have gone astray I'll give you another resume of my journeying up to date. From Havre to Vichy is a twenty-four hour trip, not that the distance is so great, about what it is from New York to Chicago, but travel is slow. The trains are the longest I have ever seen and crowded as ours are in midsummer vacation routes. We had a five-hour wait in Paris by daylight I'm thankful to say. It is a very beautiful city, ascording to its repute, more like Washington than any place I'v seen. The nurses travelled in two parties of fifty each with a French interpreter in the U. S. Service as guide, counselor and friend. The second contingent who started out at noon, six hours later than the first, got to Paris at midnight during an air-raid. But the country we travelled through lookes peaceful and prosperous and completely unmindful of war. I think the walled gray stone villages with their gay flowers gardens and crooked streets and the red-roofed thatched farm-buildings among bushy green trees, and the straight close rows of pointed Lombardy poplars along-roads and streams are most picturesque; but many of the girls sighs for Bryan, Ohio, Union, Maine and the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia and New York, U. S. A. They see nothing in France worth coming to look at in comparison. But you would have enjoyed the moonlight on the villages and fields along the Loire river night before last. I liked the pictures I saw there better than the "movies."

People seem to prefer travel by night in this part of the world, and there are no sleeping cars. You sit on your suit case or curl up in a parlor car chair and snatch some naps either way. The government gives the nurses first-class passage always, but often times you'll find your seat in the carriage already occupied and you can't get anything to eat at the stations on the way unless you have a bread and meat card or pass a Red Cross canteen. Also there is no dining car attached. Don't you think it must be something like the over-land travel when you first went to California? The dust is fearful everywhere. Only soft coal to burn and France has a wet and a dry season. But the climate is delightful at this season wherever I have been—soft, clear, warm summer air. I wonder how the grass and trees keep green and the flowers and vegetables and fruit bloom and ripen as they everywhere do. The hill-side orchards in Normandy are like New England's. Perhaps the plants here store up moisture from the winter rains.

At Havre and Vichy we had fruit every day, sweet green grapes and honey dew melon. The country and village houses here in France have grape-vines growing upon them as we have wood-bine at home. The vine is as decorative as it is practical, growing in a wide green border across the upper front story of the square yellowish gray stone house. There are no piazzas you know. The French sit out in their yard if they live in the country or on the side-walks under awnings if they live in the cities. They sit out on the side-walks without awnings on the east side in New York I noticed.

Vichy is called the second Monte Carlo of France. It is a health resort full of fine modern-built hotels now turned into base one hundred-fifteen is to be located there as soon as the men of the units arriv overseas. There are all kinds of shops, too, and you can buy almost anything there from platinum-set jewelry to salted almonds if you have the price. The place is crowded with summer people at present. French, Italian, German, South American. I don't know where they all sleep since the hotels have been taken over for military purposes, but everybody sits out all day, its seems on the side-walks and in the parks. We worked two days at Vichy before we took our grips and started off again, and we rested mostly in the parks and had hot baths and shampoos two days before that making four days altogether.

We had rooms at Vichy on the top, the ninth floor of our hotel hospital and the elevators did not run. My! my! the walking had to be good. The wounded were carried up on stretchers and there a man had to stay until he could walk down on crutches or otherwise. But he had plenty of company as long as he stayed up-stairs. Each ward or floor is the size or rather accommodates as many patients as a small civilian hospital, i. e., between a hundred and fifty or two hundred men.

Our mess was in another hotel, seven minutes walk across the park. We were served caffeteria style on long plank tables with plank seats. The food is plentiful and of much better quality then I expected. The tea and coffee are better than in most civilian hospitals at home; there is only canned milk of course and the butter is frankly "oleo."

We make the patients nourishments of egg-nog and cocoa out of condensed milk. They take such drinks and say "Thank you." There are no fussers among them, so far as I have seen. Here in Nantes, which is not far from the coast by-the-way, we live in shacks, very neat, new and comfortable, two nurses to a room, eight to a toilet and wash-bowls. There are shower baths and tubs in the settlements and there is supposedly hot water. Water hot or cold on taps anywhere in this country is a luxury. We have to wash our under clothes out in cold water over night, travelling about in suit cases as we do. Our trunks and blanket-rolls are following on after and we wonder whenever they will catch up. I haven't been at work long enough to tell you about that. There is a great deal I am not allowed to mention that might interest you, but six pages is the limit in any case. I'm now going to wash my hair in cold water and ivory soap. The water is almost as hard as lime can make it, but I think I can apply a more cleansing friction to my scalp than the French scampooer in Vichy did. Please send this letter to Auntie with my love. I'll enclose a postal card for her too. I sent you all cards from Paris but quite likely you didn't receive them. I make round-robin letters because there is an uncertainty of their ever reaching America at all and once safely arrived forwarding there is surer than here.

Love to all in Norway and in Walden. Your loving daughter, Charlotte.

This letter was received by Mrs. Raymond McAllister of East Stoneham from her brother, Private Joseph Flanders, 301st Engineers, 76th Division A. E. F.

My Dear Sister:—Just a few lines to let you know that I am still in good health, and getting along fine. I have received the letter from Blanche, and that is all the mail I have received since I have been here.

It has been awful hot here up until the last few days. Last week it was a hundred and thirteen, but it is much cooler this week.

I suppose you folks are having a lot of green stuff to eat. We never see any at all here. About all they raise is grapes, although there are quite a few blackberries and we picked a hat full once in a while for dessert.

Has mother been over to see you this summer? I hope so for I think it does her a lots of good to get out into the country. Blanche and I were coming over to see you this summer only for this war, but will come over next summer any way.

We are drilling all the time now getting ready for the front. I don't believe the war will last very much longer now, for we have got them on the run and we don't intend to stop either. Our forces are getting nearer every day.

How is Raym? Tell him I would like to get a letter from him. Well, Ona, it is most time for mess, so I will close, but will write you again soon. Give my love to Raym and all.

The following letter was written by Ralph O. Millett to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Millett of Norway.

Dear Folks at Home: I am feeling fine over here but I have seen places I liked better but we have been here since a week ago yesterday and hope we stay until the war is over. I will send a newspaper if I get a chance to. I wish I could write you what the papers state here but we cannot write and be sure that you get the letters. Hope it will finish soon so we can get home. I don't expect to hear from you very soon as we do not stay in a place long enough at a time. How is everything at home? Hope you are all well. I am feeling fine here.

I went out in the woods and picked some blackberries. It is about two miles from the camp to the mess hall which is quite a long walk so I went to breakfast and dinner and got some extra bread and brought is back. Then I went over in the woods and got a few blackberries to eat with my bread which tasted pretty good. They are very thick and great big ones. In hopes to get assigned to a company soon so we can get some mail. I don't like it very well. Guess I will it is all wool. I guess I will be crazy with it. I got some underwear in Slocum and it was all cotton but this is wool and I don't like it very well. Guess I will close now from your son, Ralph Oliver Millett, France.

A HINT TO CAR OWNERS

Not all car owners know that pure rain water is the best that can be used in the cooling system. This is because it is free from mineral substances which are present in ordinary water and which are deposited on the metal walls of the radiator piping jackets, etc., to their detriment.

When rain water is available always use it.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Among recent guests at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace W. Sheen were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynes and Master Linwood Haynes of Bath, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood, Charles Hunt and Alice Maxim, all of Norway.

Wallace W. Sheen lost his farm horse recently, but is still able to do the harvesting from the farm with his auto truck.

The Blue Triangle secretaries in France do any odd job that comes up, in which they can be of use. Recently at one of the large hospitals, so many cases came in that there were not enough nurses to go around. A Y. W. C. A. secretary stepped up, quietly remarked that she had had a year of medical training, and would be glad to be of any assistance. You can wager that she was snapped up and put to work with all speed. This is only one instance of the willingness and cooperation displayed by the girls wearing the Blue Triangle.

Clean Coffee Pot

Wash the coffee pot after each using with hot water and no soap. Once in three or four days fill with water and add one teaspoonful of cooking soda and boil ten minutes; then rinse and boil in clear water.

Ora Marston

Ora Marston died Thursday, Oct. 17 at his home on Main street from pneumonia following influenza, being the second one only who has died because of influenza in this immediate vicinity. Mr. Marston had been troubled with asthma for several years which with some other complication made his case a hard one to fight against.

He was born in Andover and was 46 years of age. He leaves a wife, who was Gertrude Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Bacon of this place and three daughters, Leona aged 14 years, Lena aged 12 and Doris aged 9, also three brothers, Elmer, Leo and Roscoe, three half brothers and two half sisters. For a long time he has been employed here in the Paris Manufacturing Co's. factory and was a skilled workman and always on his job. All his time outside the factory was spent in working for the home in one way and another, making articles of furniture for convenience and beauty of the home or off in the woods working up the winter's supply of fuel, always busy. He was a quiet man, pleasant to meet, a friendly word or smile for everybody and all who knew him were his friends. Especially heavy is the loss to his family and his home, where his devotion and energies were centered.

The funeral was held in his late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. H. A. Markley officiating. Beautiful flowers covered the casket. Interment in West Paris cemetery.

All the sick cases here are looking favorable or are gaining. There are some hard cases at North Paris. In the family of Geo. Curtis there are eleven sick.

Dr. O'Connor of Augusta received his call in the service while here, but did not leave until he considered all his cases out of danger. Dr. O'Connor was liked very much while here and many regrets have been expressed because he had to leave.

Mrs. E. D. Curtis is now gaining slowly. Dr. Call of Lewiston, who has been supplying at Norway and South Paris, has her case in hand from Dr. O'Connor. She became very exhausted and low and it will be a long time and good care to regain her former health. Mrs. Benson of Woodstock is nursing her now. The trained nurse has been released.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-four Years Ago Last Week

C. L. Hathaway furnished the large plate glass that went into the Savings Bank building; also the one in G. W. Hobbs' variety store. They are the two largest lights of glass ever brought into this county. It took the whole of a platform car to bring them here. One is 100x138 inches and the other 7x10 feet. Both have been set and they show off in great shape.

G. L. Curtis, formerly express messenger here but who has been in New Haven, Conn., for some time past, has moved to Norway and intends making his home here.

Wright Bisbee recently celebrated his sixtieth birthday with a party of friends at Camp Cinnamon. There were seventeen present, and a good time was had. Mr. Bisbee was presented with a silver gold-lined cup and an easy rocking chair.

A. E. Swift, mason working on the Opera house, last Wednesday, had a board drop on his wrist laming it so as to necessitate his quitting work. No bones were broken and it is expected he will be able to go to work in a few days.

Don C. Seitz of the Brooklyn office of the New York World has been assigned to the position of business manager of the World in place of John Norris, while that gentleman is temporarily absent in St. Louis on business connected with the Post-Dispatch.

Twenty-four Years Ago This Week

Mel Meserve of Otisfield bought the W. H. Meserve farm at North Norway at auction last Saturday. It was knocked off to him on a bid of $1,390. J. E. McIntire was the other bidder. A pair of work horses brought $11.25. One sold to Frank Marston of Yagger for $4.50, and a stranger got the other for $7.75. A good two-year-old colt brought $19.00.

S. H. Hayden, the Auburn shoe pattern maker, was in town, Wednesday. He is going to Haverhill, Mass., to go into the pattern making business.

The town clock is here, and will be put in the tower as soon as the tower is completed.

J. O. Crooker is to take up the piece of sidewalk in front of his store that is laid with paving stones and replace it with granite.

A handsome weather vane adorns the tower of the new Congregational church edifice. It is the generous gift of Solomon I. Millett, who lives opposite the church.

In putting the foundation for the Odd Fellows' block there was found to be formerly a tannery on the town side of the lot. The tan and pits were well preserved. There was also a trunk of a pine tree more than 3 feet in diameter.

Uncle Sam Mains carries his left arm in a sling. He says he don't know what the matter is unless it is the ugliness coming out in the wrist.

Norway Browns in Broken Bow

Henry N. Brown and family, who lived on the Daniel Holt farm in North Norway, and moved to Nebraska some years ago, have written an interesting letter from which we take extracts:

Miss Ida Brown taught school for some time and has changed her name to Mrs. Arthur Rourke, and has a son more than a year old. We have a good picture of him.

George Brown, the son, recently broke his arm, but is getting on well. Last year he was operated on for appendicitis and adhesions, so he has had experience with sickness.

The family are engaged in farming on what seems to be a large scale, as they talk about having 40 head of cattle and 50 hogs and 20 horses, with thousands of bushels of oats and 600 bushels of wheat. They have 500 bushels of corn on the ear in the crib—last years crop; also more than 2,000 bushels this year. Can't understand what Henry can do with so much produce?

Of apples they have none that is fit to eat and hav'n't seen any since they left Maine.

During the influenza epidemic, Mrs. Alma P. Hayden has charge of the visiting nurses at Niagara Falls. She has on her list 40 families where 60 people are stricken with the disease at their homes. The Red Cross furnishes autos to take these nurses around. Those needing nurses register with Mrs. Hayden, who has a list of regular nurses and volunteers. While the schools are closed the teachers are giving their services, and many others are volunteering in a neighborly way. Mrs. Hayden and nurses wear gauze masks while on duty and feel free to hail any auto which is going their way. Every one responds freely. While the Flu was raging at the Fort 25 nurses were sent down from the Falls. Conditions are better among the soldiers now. The two hospitals are full to the overflowing and a temporary hospital has been fitted up at the Elks Club. Some times a little boy all alone with his sick mother will telephone for help. Often some neighbor sends word of a whole family sick and helpless. Some way is found to reach every case for kind hearts are ready to do their part.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. BINZER, Black River Falls, Wis.

TAKE OUR ADVICE

BUY YOUR OVERCOAT NOW

No need going into long stories and technical details—you know as well as anyone that the Government is now using more than three-quarters of the mills and factories in the country. Uncle Sam needs all the clothes he can lay his hands on for the boys "over there" and "over here." Some of the factories are working 100 per cent. Government, all civilian contracts must wait, and if there is anything left after the Government gets all it wants, then we'll get ours. From all present indications and on very good authority there will be very little left. That's why we urge you to buy now while we have a good stock of Winter Overcoats on hand.

You'll appreciate our advice in about a month from today. Overcoatings are very scarce and high and they are going to be scarcer and higher later on. BETTER SELECT YOURS NOW.

LOVELL CENTER

Private Ivan R. Heald

Private Iyan Ray Heald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Heald of Lovell Center died of pneumonia at Edgewood Arsenal, Edgewood, Md. Fox, both of Lovell Center, and Mrs. Stillman F. Barker of Fryeburg, a nephew, many nieces, and other relatives, besides a host of friends. A private funeral was held at his home at Lovell Center. That this brave soldier lad was loved and highly honored was plainly manifested by the many beautiful flowers, among them a magnificent piece, a part of which was twenty-three pale pink rose buds, sent from "the boys" in Co. L, 3rd Chemical Battalion, Edgewood Arsenal, Edgewood, Maryland. His age was 23 years. Rev. John Graham from South Bridgton spoke beautiful words of comfort and sympathy, giving to the sad sad hearts a sence of strength and courage for the future.

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Heald, written by Harry E. Farnum, 2nd Lt., C. W. S. Commanding Co. L 3rd Bn.

Oct. 11th, 1918.

My Dear Mrs. Heald:

If it can be of any consolation to you to know your son's death has helped along this great cause of Democracy just as much as the lauded hero who charges "over the top", please let this message convey to you that very true fact.

It takes a man of courage and daring to charge into fire of enemy guns. He knows nevertheless that he has opportunity to fight back. The man who goes daily to a chemical plant where his life is liable to be snuffed out at any moment, who works constantly against a force at which he cannot strike back, that man has more than courage and daring. He has every quality of a real man and hero.

Such a man was Ivan Heald. His lose will be keenly felt here in the Company where his willingness and cheerful nature even under the most adverse circumstances were greatly appreciated.

If there is anything I can do to help straighten out his affairs I beg of you to call on me.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

There's Only One Genuine "Corn-Peeler"—That's "Gets-It."

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will. "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, eases pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns.

No More Excuse for Corns or Corn-Pains Now!

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

School Garden Army

The United States School Garden Army was organized in March, 1918, and $50,000 set aside by President Wilson, and since then $200,000 has been appropriated for the work. The object of the plan was to increase food production and at the same time to train the school children in thrift, industry, service, patriotism and responsibilty.

A general director was appointed who was responsible for the organization, who in turn appointed regional directors whose duty it was to write instructions upon gardening that enabled the supervisors and teachers to take a garden company successfully through the season. These leaflets were put out through the central office to all who applied for them.

In some places the "Army Plan" was used, which organized the boys and girls into companies under the direction of a garden teacher, there being a captain, first lieutenant and second lieutenant. An insigna was given to each enlisted soldier—a double bronze bar for the captain, single bronze bar with two stars in the border for the first lieutenant, and one star for the second lieutenant, and a combination bronze and black enameled bar for privates.

During the season of 1918 one million, five hundred thousand boys and girls of the country joined the U. S. School Garden Army, and 20,000 acres of unproductive vacant lots have been made to yield produce.

The effect of the movement has been felt and thousands of parents became interested and added their support to the work. The vacant lot gardening has been made popular to a degree that practically insures it a prominent place in the school system of our country. It would be difficult to estimate the educational and material value of such results.
